FND Education · Module 4 Review

Across

2. Your thinking headquarters, occasionally a little forgetful.

4. A difference from your usual symptoms that may be worth mentioning.

6. An experienced health difficulty, such as weakness or dizziness.

9. A clinical evaluation to investigate or understand a symptom.

12. Sometimes
the hardest things to find during a doctor's appointment.

13. Type of
factor that may contribute to symptoms continuing.

16. Everything
around you, including light and noise.

18. A planned pause

19. Medical
term for a condition occurring alongside another condition.

20. Three-letter
abbreviation for functional neurological disorder.

Down

1. Type of
sign that may suggest a familiar episode is beginning.

3. Look over information again to see what matters.

5. Healthcare
professional who assesses symptoms and may make diagnoses.

7. Able to happen or be done, perhaps with an adjustment.

8. A small
guide to your health, rather than a hunt for buried treasure.

10. An empty-battery kind of feeling.

11. Practical assistance that makes life more manageable.

14. Changes
in this may be part of someone's FND.

15. Old-school
writing surface. No batteries required!

17. Belonging
to you, rather than borrowed.