Cognitive Difficulties in FND

Across

1. Night-time
rest that may affect concentration.

3. Deciding what steps to take before an activity.

4. A piece of information that can be checked as true.

7. To look again and confirm a detail.

8. To bring something back to someone's attention.

11. The
day, month and year of an event.

12. Differences
in how an ability works from day to day.

16. Assistance
that makes a task easier to manage.

18. Thinking,
understanding and using information.

19. Mental or physical tiredness that can affect thinking.

20. One
activity you mean to complete.

21. To record a detail before you forget it.

Down

1. Moving
your attention from one task to another.

2. A
missing stretch in your memory of an event.

3. Physical discomfort that can compete for attention.

4. To have a fact vanish just when you need it.

5. Memory
for facts, words and their meanings.

6. Taking
information in so it can be remembered.

9. A
dated record of appointments and plans.

10. A word used to identify someone or something.

13. Information
that supports an account of events.

14. The centre of your mental attention.

15. Several reminders written one below another.

17. Steps
chosen before beginning a task.