FND Education · Module 9 Review

Across

5. Improvements
that needn't add up to total recovery.

7. Keeping a skill after the practice session is over.

8. When a clinic win packs a bag and comes home.

9. Regaining abilities, sometimes only in part.

11. Rehabilitation care directed at movement and physical function.

13. Yesterday's tricky steps,
today's well-worn path.

16. How tomorrow's response to therapy
may remain.

18. The
therapist's tiny prompt, not a pool stick.

19. The waiting room's least welcome
soundtrack.

20. Speech's tiny pit stop when thoughts get tangled.

22. What your body does when you take a step.

24. A treatment pitch's most important missing ingredient.

Down

1. Where a clinic improvement meets everyday life.

2. The body's inside-news service
for hunger and heartbeat.

3. Seizure-focused care might begin with a conversation.

4. A little improvement that still deserves notice.

6. Paper
backup when memory takes a coffee break.

10. A trial outcome about joining work or community, not seizure counts.

12. What slow rehabilitation may reveal in the rearview mirror.

14. Extend
your arm to grab the coffee mug.

15. When
a clinic skill turns up in your kitchen.

17. The movement you can see in a tremor.

21. The mental spotlight with competing attractions.

23. A possible sequel to an exhausting appointment.
